WATER POWER BILL OCCUPIES SENATE IN FIRST MEETING

Will Investigate Marten's Activities

Victor Berger and Irish Question to Keep House Busy for Time

Washington, Jan. 5.—Congress reconvened today after a holiday recess to take up a full calendar of domestic legislation with the settlement of the treaty question promised by the senate leaders in the "near future."

The business before the senate was the water power bill which was made unfinished business before the recent adjournment two weeks ago. When this is passed the Sterling bill will be taken up.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, plans to oppose the Sterling bill, provisions creating a virtual peace time censorship of publications. The bill gives the postmaster general power to bar from the mails all writings advocating the overthrow of government by force.

Senator Borah objects not to the purpose of the bill but the unlimited power granted the postmaster general to determine the existence of sedition.

Following the disposition of the Sterling bill the Kenyon Americanization bill will be taken up. This bill would compel the education of illiterate aliens.

The finance committee will complete legislation for the protection of the infant industries started during the war.

The settlement of the recent coal strike in so far as a possible increase of coal prices to the consumer are concerned will be continued by Senator Frelinghuysen, chairman of the committee.

Investigations into the activities of Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, representing the Russian soviet government in the United States will be started when Senator Moses returns to Washington next week. The Watson special committee investigating alleged bolshevism influence in the federal trade commission will be started shortly, according to Mr. Watson.

Victor Berger and the Irish question were pushed to the front in the house. Plans were in the framing by house leaders to make short work of the Berger contest for a seat in the house.

Representative Dallinger, of Massachusetts, is expected to present a resolution declaring Berger ineligible to a seat, and asks the house to adopt it without delay. The right of Bodenstab, his contestant in the Wisconsin election to a seat in place of Berger, probably will be sent to a house committee for investigation and report.

Received Large Sum From Government

Shelton Haggard, colored, of Columbus, formerly of Cedarville, is about to receive from the government a payment of $5,700 on a claim made for injuries received while in the regular army 19 years ago. The claim allowed is $300 a year for the 19 years. In addition he is to receive a pension of $30 a month.

No Fall In Prices For Several Years To Come Predicts Government Official

Washington, Jan. 5.—That there will be no important fall in prices for several years to come, is the statement of Royal Meeker, commissioner of Labor Statistics and head of the bureau which collected information on the trend of prices used by the government in official negotiations concerning wages and similar questions.

In fact Mr. Meeker considers a sudden fall in prices now as dangerous. He recommends a monetary unit of value to replace the present units of weight, declaring that conditions bordering on a panic will result if prices are forced down.

"People generally are yearning so intently for lower prices that they have come to be regarded as ideal. Unfold distress has been caused by the rapid price increases of the past four years. The sufferings already endured by the people through rising prices

SWEAR WARRANT CHARGING MAN WITH MURDER

THIS MAKES THIRD ACCUSATION IN KILLING OF DETROIT CLUBMAN

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Jan. 5.—With the completion today of the state's investigation of the murder of J. Stanley Brown, wealthy young club man, found dead in his automobile on a lonely road near here on the night of December 23, a warrant charging a man previously questioned by the authorities, with murder will be sworn to, those in charge of the investigation declared.

The warrant, if issued, will be the third murder warrant sworn to since the finding of Brown's body.

Mrs. Brown, widow of the murdered man, was the first to be arrested charged with the murder. After being held several days she was released.

Mrs. Cecil Vester, was then taken into custody and is now held in jail here formally charged with the killing of Brown. Mrs. Vester, denying knowledge of the crime, has accused Lloyd Prevost, Mrs. Brown's cousin.

Prevost, according to new evidence uncovered by the authorities, is said to have been seeing leaving the hotel with the victim on the night of the murder.

Acting on instructions from the state prosecutor, police yesterday searched Prevost's home, taking his clothing and other bits of evidence, the exact nature of which the officers refused to reveal.

Following this raid the police announced that a third warrant would be sought today.

WHISKEY FOUND IN TREES

Newark, N. J., Jan. 5.—Whiskey was smuggled into this country in Christmas trees shipped from Canada, it was declared today by revenue agents who have been investigating the source of the liquor supply. This they declare was responsible for the glut of Christmas trees this season.

will multiply tenfold if prices drop within the next seven years to the 1913 level. A period of falling prices is always a time of business depression, failures and unemployment."

Declaring that the governments of the world could not reduce their debts suddenly, the Commissioner said the credit which would have to be extended to Europe by this country would produce further inflation, thus boosting prices still higher.

Similarly, the world's production of goods can not be increased suddenly. For that reason, he said, fear that Europe would flood American markets to the detriment of domestic industry was unfounded.

"The normal seasonal drop in price may be expected in 1920," Mr. Meeker added. "In normal times the low price level for the commodities combined comes in March, April changes are relatively small and will have but little effect upon the housewives' expenditures. No great and sudden fall in prices seems possible for a long time.

PALMER TO BEGIN INVESTIGATION OF MINERS CHARGES

ALLEGED VIOLATION BY COAL OPERATORS OF TERMS HINTED AT

Make Joint Report To the Commission

Expect Over 2,000 Delegates at Convention in Columbus This Week

Columbus, O., Jan. 5.—Alleged violation by the coal operators of the terms of agreement by which the coal strike was ended, which have been reported and investigated by the officials of the United Mine workers, have been put in the hands of Attorney General Palmer. According to Wm. Green, secretary of the mine workers, who is here to attend the miners convention which starts today, reports of violations came from Alabama, eastern Kentucky, West Virginia, Illinois, Colorado and Tennessee, where operators, it is claimed, offered miners a 14 percent increase on condition that they resign from the union. Discussion of alleged violations will come before the Columbus convention.

More than 2,000 delegates, representing 400,000 soft coal miners, are expected to be here when the convention opens its first session at 10 A. M. It is expected that Governor Cox will make an address of greeting to the miners. Most of the day will be spent in organizing and examining the credentials of the delegates.

Make Joint Report
A joint report by acting president Lewis and Secretary Green will be made to the convention informing the delegates of the details of the strike settlement and of the negotiations with the government and operators. It is expected that the wage scale committee for the central competitive district, which will confer with president Wilson's coal commission at Washington on January 12 will receive instructions from the miners.

John P. White, representatives for the miners on president Wilson's commission of three which will make a final settlement of the coal strike controversy, arrived here for the convention, but said he would take no active part in it.

Officials of the miners union pointed out that nothing can be done by the miners which will affect the temporary agreement with the government. They say that the miners may pass resolutions endorsing the action of their officials in accepting the government's plan of settlement.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE AFTER QUARREL

Cleveland, O., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Mary Subotnik, 29, was dying at St. Alexis hospital this morning in another ward her husband was seriously burned and at home neighbors were caring for their four children as a result of a family quarrel. On the eve of their first day in a new home the Subotniks quarreled and Mrs. Subotnik attempted suicide by setting her clothing afire. The husband was badly burned in extinguishing the flames.

The shocks continued at intervals for hours. Teocelo and Cosayla in the state of Vera Cruz were destroyed. Other towns and villages in the states of Oaxaca, Tamaulipas and Guerrero were damaged.

It is reported that port Lobos, north of Tampico, where several American oil corporations have big terminals, were damaged.

WANTED TO "MOTHER" CHILD WOMAN IS NOW HELD FOR CRIME

Cleveland, O., Jan. 5.—Desire for a child to "mother" led Mrs. Inez Sloane, 22, telephone operator, to kidnap four year old Pauline Polovich and flee with her to Akron.

Arraigned today in municipal court on a charge of child stealing, Mrs. Sloane told the court that her love for the child and her determination that she should "have the best of everything" caused her to steal Pauline.

"I was lonely and so was the baby," she said.

Leo Polovich, father of the child, declared he would push the kidnapping case against Mrs. Sloane.

She had secured employment in an Akron rubber factory when arrested. The child has been missing since December 20.

WIDOW AND VICTIM OF MICHIGAN AUTOMOBILE MURDER.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., authorities investigating the slaying of J. Stanley Brown, wealthy Detroit clubman, whose body was found in his automobile on a lonely road near Mt. Clemens, are convinced that two persons had a hand in the crime. They have issued a warrant for the arrest of a woman friend of Brown, who the police believe, can throw some light on the mystery. Mrs. Brown who is shown here in outing costume, was being sued for divorce at the time the slain man's body was found abandoned in his auto. She is nineteen years old.

JUSTICE BRANDEIS REFUSES TO LIFT PROHIBITION BAN ON 2.75 PER CENT BEER IN SUPREME COURT DECISION

Washington, Jan. 5.—Justice Brandeis today in the supreme court read a decision refusing to lift the prohibition ban on 2.75 per cent beer.

The adverse decision was handed down in the case of Jacob Ruppert, a corporation, New York, vs. Francis G. Caffey, U. S. attorney southern district New York and Richard J. McElligott, deputy collector of the third district of New York.

The case was appealed from the district court for the southern district of New York. The lower court is sustained.

Justice Reynolds, Justice Day and Justice Vandevanter dissented from the opinion of the court as delivered by Justice Brandeis. The dissenting opinion was read by Justice Reynolds.

A preliminary injunction was denied by the district court, restraining federal officers from enforcing the terms and provisions of the wartime prohibition act and the Volstead enforcement act which fixes the percentage of alcohol in beverages at half of one per cent.

The corporation is a large brewing company said to be engaged in the manufacture of non intoxicating beer containing more than one half of one per cent of alcohol, by volume, but less than 2.75 per cent alcohol by weight. The standard that has been fixed by President Wilson in his proclamation of Dec. 8, 1917.

Counsel for the brewing company, Elihu Root and William D. Guthrie, declared in presenting the arguments to the supreme court that the acts upon which the suit was predicated are not valid exercises of the war powers of congress and are unconstitutional.

The Ruppert case was a test case in behalf of all brewers making "non intoxicating beer." It was alleged that over a billion dollars of property interests were involved in the controversy.

MEXICO SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKES CAUSING SEVERE LOSS OF LIFE IT IS FEARED; NO DEFINITE REPORTS

Mexico City, Jan. 5.—Definite reports of the complete damage and loss of life caused by the earthquake in eastern and southern Mexico were lacking today as a result of the severance of wire communications. It is known, however, that several small towns were destroyed and that others were badly damaged. It is feared that the loss of life was severe.

The shocks continued at intervals for hours. Teocelo and Cosayla in the state of Vera Cruz were destroyed. Other towns and villages in the states of Oaxaca, Tamaulipas and Guerrero were damaged.

It is reported that port Lobos, north of Tampico, where several American oil corporations have big terminals, were damaged.

Lack of Laws Will Hinder Government From Following up Advantages Obtained Through Round-ups of Alleged Agitators.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Total arrests in the raids on the Communist party and the Communist Labor party now total 3,100, according to the estimate today of Frank Burke, assistant chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice. The raids are still going on, he stated. The estimate of 3,100 arrests represents arrests of persons against whom the government has "perfect cases" Burke said. He declared that there was no accurate information of the total number of persons questioned but he declared that estimates that 4,200 persons had been arrested were "greatly exaggerated."

PICK COUNSEL FOR EX-KAISER'S CASE AT TRIAL

JOHANNES W. KRIEGE SELECTED TO LEAD LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Berlin, Jan. 5.—German's great international lawyer, Johannes W. Kriege, doctor of jurisprudence, has been selected to lead the counsel for the defense if William Hohenzollern, the former kaiser, is extradited from Holland and placed on trial before the international tribunal.

Dr. Kriege was said today by royalists to be in close touch with the ex-kaiser at Amerongen.

The monarchists seek to give the impression that the ex-kaiser is not thinking of the possibility of being tried and has taken the attitude that "he will not cross the bridge until he comes to it." Nevertheless, it was learned from an authoritative source that Dr. Kriege is already advising the former emperor as to his defense in the event that Holland gives him up.

President Ebert has sent a letter to Premier Clemenceau asking for a revision of the peace treaty regarding the extradition of William and threatening to retire from the presidency of Germany if the allies insist "ruthlessly" in carrying out their demands, according to information from a confidential, but well informed source. This letter is said to have been dispatched on Friday.

Germany already has received a list of names of persons whom the allies seek to extradite for trial. The list, which came through neutral diplomatic sources, contains the names of 1500 soldiers, including 300 private soldiers. Socialist leaders, for political reasons have willingly discussed the delivery of officers of the old regime for trial, but the discovery that some of the 300 were socialists themselves proved a bombshell.

President Ebert is said to have informed Premier Clemenceau that the German government could not attempt to carry out the delivery of all the persons wanted.

KOLCHAK THREAT TO ALLIES NOT YET RECEIVED

WARNS U. S. THAT HE WILL CEDE PART OF SIBERIA TO JAPAN.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Admiral Kolchak's reported warning to the United States that he will cede a part of Siberia to Japan unless the allies send aid to the Russian white armies, had not been received at the state department, it was stated today.

The matter of sending further allied forces into Siberia is under informal discussion now, it was learned at the State department today.

Officials stated that in their opinion the allies would not permit any large cessions of territory to Japan but they declared that some rights may be allowed Japan.

It was pointed out that Japan would be the nearest neighbor to the Bolsheviks and that the allies probably would permit Japan to send a sufficient force into Siberia to establish a considerable barrier zone between the bolsheviks and Japanese territory.

The matter of sending further American troops into Siberia is not being seriously considered, it was learned today, because of the strong national sentiment. No further American troops are likely to be sent unless the allied council show that this is not being seriously considered, it was learned today, because of the strong national sentiment. No further American troops are likely to be sent unless the allied council show that this is absolutely necessary for the safety of the world.

RED TAPE WILL STOP CENSUS OF CITY'S ADDITION

ATTEMPT WILL BE MADE TO HAVE LOCAL ENUMERATION MADE.

With the formality of taking in the new extension of the corporate limits wrapped up in red tape for many days, there is no possibility of getting the added population in on the present census enumeration.

The census takers are already busy and since the new area has not been formally admitted to the city as yet, they have to confine their activities to the old city limits. This is considered unfortunate since the extensions will have been finished long before the final result of the census is announced.

As soon as the corporation extension has been completed however, the Chamber of Commerce, through Secretary L. C. Tingley, will take the matter up in an attempt to get the census of the added district included in the government totals.

The Chamber of Commerce will conduct a local census of the district at that time and a sworn statement that the census has been taken correctly, will be mailed to the government census department, with a request that it be included in the census matter has not yet gone to the presses at that time.

In either case the figures thus compiled will be added to the totals locally and the extra population will be claimed here.

NO CANDIDATES ARE ANNOUNCED TO FILL VACANCIES IN OFFICES

As yet no candidates have been announced for the office of village councilman of Yellow Springs to fill the vacancy made by newly-elected councilman Herman Coe, who refused to qualify for the office at the regular meeting last week.

The village council will take action on the vacancy at the next regular meeting, January 15, at which time the members of the council will elect a councilman to fill the vacancy, and the choice will be passed upon by Mayor Thomas Donnelly.

Mr. Donnelly is continuing his offices as Mayor of the village, after an unsuccessful attempt to step down and out of public life. When Oliver Garlough, mayor elect, refused to serve, the council was forced to either swear in Donnelly as head of affairs or do without a Mayor. They swore in Donnelly and he is again presiding over the village affairs after refusing to be a candidate at the election.

Fine Time Now to Plan!

GREAT ENTERPRISES, WHICH HAVE TO DO with the art of construction, first find form in the minds of men and are then reduced to blue prints where every single detail must be proven by expert analysis to be correct, before actual operations begin.

THE HOME OF ONE'S OWN is to the average individual the biggest building achievement of his life, and, if best results are to be attained, should have careful and considerate planning.

NOW IS A TIME TO PLAN. The long winter evenings; a cozy fire, with the family all at hand to help with mutual loyalty and interest, all conduce to best results as such shall in the ultimate end serve to reduce expense and provide against mistakes and consequent dissatisfaction so common to the hastily conceived and hurriedly built house.

MANY A MAN OWES THE HOME of his own to what he and wife thought at the time was "building castles in the air." They together had the courage TO PLAN. Planning begot confidence; confidence brought enthusiasm and enthusiasm was the means of extra effort—and results.

THE WINNING OF A HOME which is your own, like the rearing of children, brings heavy sacrifices and penalties in its train, but the compensation, after the work is finished, in connection with the one achievement as with the other—is comparable to none other known.

AMERICA IS EVEN NOW BUDDING in to a blossom of unparalleled possibilities. The future holds no risk for industrious and seriously inclined men and women.

PLAN NOW AT YOUR LEISURE. Make sure you're right in every detail. Accurately estimate the cost. Figure out how to meet it. Whip desire and enthusiasm into action. With the coming of spring ACT and live to remember with pleasure and PROFIT the suggestion which started you on your way to the greatest of all possessions—A home of your own.

RED TAPE WILL STOP CENSUS OF CITY'S ADDITION

ATTEMPT WILL BE MADE TO HAVE LOCAL ENUMERATION MADE.

With the formality of taking in the new extension of the corporate limits wrapped up in red tape for many days, there is no possibility of getting the added population in on the present census enumeration.

The census takers are already busy and since the new area has not been formally admitted to the city as yet, they have to confine their activities to the old city limits. This is considered unfortunate since the extensions will have been finished long before the final result of the census is announced.

As soon as the corporation extension has been completed however, the Chamber of Commerce, through Secretary L. C. Tingling, will take the matter up in an attempt to get the census of the added district included in the government totals.

The Chamber of Commerce will conduct a local census of the district at that time and a sworn statement that the census has been taken correctly, will be mailed to the government census department, with a request that it be included in the census. It is noted, if the census matter has not yet gone to the presses at that time.

In either case the figures thus compiled will be added to the totals locally and the extra population will be claimed here.

OHIO BOASTS OF ONLY ONE OF ITS KIND IN COUNTY

SWEDENBORGIAN UNIVERSITY LOCATED AT URBANA IS SUCCESSFUL

Urbana, O., Jan. 5.—Located at Urbana is an educational institution famous not only as the only Swedenborgian university in America, but as one of Ohio's first educational schools. Sponsored by members of the New church denomination, commonly known as Swedenborgian, the Urbana university now is in its sixty-ninth year of successful and prosperous operation, its classes having been so arranged as to be regarded as non-sectarian, although special classes are conducted for students wishing to specialize in instruction in the doctrine of the New church.

From its very inception Urbana university had co-education, being one of the earliest institutions to admit both sexes to equal and unrestricted participation in the educational advantages offered. The only two Ohio institutions preceding it in the establishment of co-educational classes were Oberlin and Antioch colleges.

Urbana university was chartered by the Ohio legislature on March 1, 1850, and was opened to students the following September, in charge of Milo G. Williams of Cincinnati, recognized as one of Ohio's first noted educators, and the man whose pedagogical career extended over a period of fifty years.

The college was dedicated to the purpose of "developing the philosophy and theology of the New Jerusalem" in accordance with the Swedenborgian doctrine, and also had for its stated objects the "education of youth in all branches of academic, scientific and exegetic instruction."

College buildings were constructed on grounds donated by Colonel John H. James, Bailey hall being completed in 1852. During the administration of President Frank Sewall, from 1870, to 1886, Barclay hall was erected, the two main buildings being connected by a large colonnade. Professor Carroll H. May is now in charge. Trustees are men of prominence from all sections of the United States. A large percentage of the students come from the New church denomination, although there are others in non-sectarian classes.

NO CANDIDATES ARE ANNOUNCED TO FILL VACANCIES IN OFFICES

As yet no candidates have been announced for the office of village councilman of Yellow Springs to fill the vacancy made by newly-elected councilman Herman Coe, who refused to qualify for the office at the regular meeting last week.

The village council will take action on the vacancy at the next regular meeting, January 15, at which time the members of the council will elect a councilman to fill the vacancy, and the choice will be passed upon by Mayor Thomas Donnelly.

Mr. Donnelly is continuing his offices as Mayor of the village, after an unsuccessful attempt to step down and out of public life. When Oliver Garlough, mayor elect, refused to serve, the council was forced to either swear in Donnelly as head of affairs or do without a Mayor. They swore in Donnelly and he is again presiding over the village affairs after refusing to be a candidate at the election.

Fine Time Now to Plan!

GREAT ENTERPRISES, WHICH HAVE TO DO with the art of construction, first find form in the minds of men and are then reduced to blue prints where every single detail must be proven by expert analysis to be correct, before actual operations begin.

THE HOME OF ONE'S OWN is to the average individual the biggest building achievement of his life, and if best results are to be attained, should have careful and considerate planning.

NOW IS A TIME TO PLAN. The long winter evenings; a cozy fire, with the family all at hand to help with mutual interest and interest, all conduce to best results as such shall in the ultimate end serve to reduce expense and provide against mistakes and consequent dissatisfaction so common to the hastily conceived and hurriedly built house.

MANY A MAN OWES THE HOME of his own to what he and wife thought at the time was "building castles in the air." They together had the courage TO PLAN. Planning brought confidence; confidence brought enthusiasm and enthusiasm was the means of extra effort—and results.

THE WINNING OF A HOME which is your own, like the rearing of children, brings heavy sacrifices and penalties in its train, but the compensation, after the work is finished, in connection with the one achievement as with the other—is comparable to none other known.

AMERICA IS EVEN NOW BUDDING in to a blossom of unparalleled possibilities. The future holds no risk for industrious and seriously inclined men and women.

PLAN NOW AT YOUR LEISURE. Make sure you're right in every detail. Accurately estimate the cost. Figure out how to meet it. Whip desire and enthusiasm into action. With the coming of spring ACT and live to remember with pleasure and PROFIT the suggestion which started you on your way to the greatest of all possessions—A home of your own.

JUSTICE TO THE TEACHERS.

We are sure the whole community recognizes the justice of the action of the Xenia Board of Education in raising the salaries of the teachers.

Teaching has been and must continue to be regarded as the most important and noblest of professions. What will be its fate if this great work fails to bring a sufficient reward to make it possible for persons of capacity to enter it as a career?

With a lowering of educational standards will inevitably come a decline in civilization and economic life. Education is the first fundamental of growth and progress, and no uneducated people can live in peace or comfort or happiness. Look the wide world over, and where ignorance is there too dwell confusion, misery, poverty and crime.

In this connection, Mr. W. L. Tobey, of the Hamilton News, who has always taken marked interest in the cause of Higher Education, asks public attention to an injustice that is being done teachers in this line. He says:

"The situation in regard to the pay of the Professors in our institution of higher learning presents a very critical problem to them. A tremendous increase in the cause of living has made it impossible for them to live within the salary, which is practically the same as existed five years ago."

What is to be compared in value, in the realm of the making of men, to the one who takes the raw material of the callow youth and makes of it the finished product of a well prepared man to enter upon all the better activities of life—the one whose life work it is to broaden the intellect of youth so that the whole world of life's operations become his field of action, or may so become.

Education is the leading of the human mind to what is right and best—the training which makes men happiest in themselves and most serviceable to others. This is the noble work of the teacher, an almost divine profession.

While we write we come across this pertinent paragraph in an Eastern exchange:

"While tremendous development of the scenic background of college life has been going on, the salaries of the professors have remained the same and have not only compelled them to live the 'simple life' of necessity, but have made the question of their family and its bringing up one of the dire penalties of their choice of a profession that every one tells them ennobles them and also honors the state and the community in which they serve. It is not only true that the professor, even if he were willing to try some crude collective experiment, cannot reduce his standard of living to that of the various hewers of wood and the drawers of water, in view of the social and the intellectual demands of his position, but that he has been further humiliated within the last five years by seeing the most unskilled of manual workers get a remuneration out of all proportion to the part played in the labor world and in national life. It is this new situation that still continues, coupled with the older difficulties, which have been the wolf at the door of the professor all too long, that have given rise to the present demand all over the country that the salaries of the teacher and the college professor shall not only meet the immediate exigency of the highly increased cost of living, but that it shall be based on the minimum amount that will give the recipient the conveniences of living that the man and woman who occupy these admitted positions of responsibility must have."

DEMOCRACY GATHERING FOR ST. JACKSON DAY.

With the dawn of the New Year the Democratic clans are gathering in Washington for meeting of the national committee and Jackson Day love feast at the Willard. The call for the meeting stresses the selection of a time and place for the national convention as the main business in hand. That will be the first topic talked when Chairman Homer S. Cummings calls the braves to order at 10 o'clock on the morning of January 8.

Six cities are now in the running for the convention, Chicago, Kansas City, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and San Francisco. The choice is thought to lie between Chicago, Kansas City and Frisco.

There is a terrific demand for places at the Jackson Day banquet, or rather for the oratorical barbecue into which it threatens to develop. In addition to Chairman Cummings's introductory (we have with us tonight), which he compassionately promises shall not exceed five minutes, there will be at least twelve speeches of at least twenty minutes each. So four solid hours of spell-binding is a certainty. No list of speakers will be given out in advance.

Mr. McAdoo is the only avowed candidate who will not give the Democratic brethren a sample of keynote oratory, for he is not to be at the meeting. Being President Wilson's son-in-law, he is supposed to be the Administration candidate as the successor to Mr. Wilson's old shoes.

NEBRASKA WOMEN BOYCOTT EGGS. PRICE DROPS 30 CENTS.

When foodstuff prices went soaring out of bounds in Nebraska thousands of housewives throughout the state contented themselves with verbal protests. Still the prices continued to mount higher and higher every day until the ladies of the State decided to organize. The women's clubs of the State put all their strength in to the fight against the food profiteers. A general committee was appointed. On this committee were Mrs. E. F. Bell, Mrs. F. A. Harzen, Mrs. N. E. Hildreth and Mrs. C. S. Clayton. The first step in the fight was the boycotting of eggs. The housewives of the State were appealed to. They were asked to stop buying eggs and complied. Within two weeks the price of eggs dropped thirty cents, from ninety-five to sixty-five cents a dozen. Cheered on by their success the women are planning to attack the prices of many other commodities, especially clothing, along the same lines.

MAN LEAVES TOWN FOLLOWING EXPERIENCE AT A GATHERING

Boyce is said to have made an effort to get out of the village Thursday night. He went to the home of Pliny St. John, who operates a taxi and asked Mr. St. John to take him to Xenia in time to catch the 11 o'clock train for the east, but the latter refused, and closed the door upon the caller. "No, I won't take you to Xenia, and you know why," said Mr. St. John.

The incident in the community house Thursday afternoon is still the chief topic of conversation in Spring Valley, where groups of youths gather to talk over the matter.

AN INTERESTING STORY NOW TOLD BY NEWARK MAN

Is kept busy telling his friends how he got rid of a severe case of stomach trouble and constipation.

Sick Since 1917.

States that two bottles of the new medicine Dreco, have done him a great amount of good.

"I am kept busy these days telling my friends what it is that makes me look so much better and feel like myself again," says Mr. George Angleoff of Newark, O.

"My stomach has bothered me very much since back in 1917; seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me, and I soon realized I was cutting out first one thing and then another, because it did not agree with me. I grew thin, weak and pale, and was the picture of a genuine 'Dyspeptic.' My bowels were also badly constipated, and my liver was inactive, which kept me continual y taking physic.

"I've now finished taking the second bottle of Dreco, and my condition shows a remarkable improvement. I can eat many things, which I have denied myself many times, without hurting me afterwards. My color is better; have more strength and feel good all the time, as I get good rest at night. My bowels act regularly every day, without the assistance of other medicines. Dreco surely has proven itself a wonderful medicine in my case."

Dreco is a combination of many different medicinal herbal plants, that act directly upon the liver, kidneys, stomach, bladder and the blood. It neutralizes the poisons of the system, and causes the organs to take on new life and energy, and rebuild the body. Nothing has a quicker or more positive effect in relieving headaches, constipation, neuralgia, biliousness, nervousness, poor appetite, loss of weight, poor sleep, catarrh, gas on the stomach and rheumatism. Dreco does not contain potash, mercury, or any other harmful mineral. All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended by Sohn's Drug Store.

The railroad is the modern pack-bearer. For every employee it carries 2,000 times as much.

Back of each railroad worker there is a $10,000 investment in tracks and trains and terminals, with steam and electricity harnessed like a great beast of burden.

Without this mighty transportation machine the railroad worker could do no more than the old-time packer. But with it he is enabled to earn the highest railroad wages paid in the world, while the country gains the lowest-cost transportation in the world.

The modern railroad does as much work for half a cent as the pack-bearer could do for a full day's pay.

The investment of capital in transportation and other industries increases production, spreads prosperity and advances civilization.

To enlarge our railroads so that they may keep pace with the Nation's increasing production, to improve them so that freight may be hauled with less and less human effort—a constant stream of new capital needs to be attracted.

Under wise public regulation the growth of railroads will be stimulated, the country will be adequately and economically served, labor will receive its full share of the fruits of good management, and investors will be fairly rewarded.

JUSTICE TO THE TEACHERS.

We are sure the whole community recognizes the justice of the action of the Xenia Board of Education in raising the salaries of the teachers.

Teaching has been and must continue to be regarded as the most important and noblest of professions. What will be its fate if this great work fails to bring a sufficient reward to make it possible for persons of capacity to enter it as a career?

With a lowering of educational standards will inevitably come a decline in civilization and economic life. Education is the first fundamental of growth and progress, and no uneducated people can live in peace or comfort or happiness. Look the wide world over, and where ignorance is there too dwell confusion, misery, poverty and crime.

In this connection, Mr. W. L. Tobey, of the Hamilton News, who has always taken marked interest in the cause of Higher Education, asks public attention to an injustice that is being done teachers in this line. He says:

"The situation in regard to the pay of the Professors in our institution of higher learning presents a very critical problem to them. A tremendous increase in the cause of living has made it impossible for them to live within the salary, which is practically the same as existed five years ago."

What is to be compared in value, in the realm of the making of men, to the one who takes the raw material of the callow youth and makes of it the finished product of a well prepared man to enter upon all the better activities of life—the one whose life work it is to broaden the intellect of youth so that the whole world of life's operations become his field of action, or may so become.

Education is the leading of the human mind to what is right and best—the training which makes men happiest in themselves and most servicable to others. This is the noble work of the teacher, an almost divine profession.

While we write we come across this pertinent paragraph in an Eastern exchange:

"While tremendous development of the scenic background of college life has been going on, the salaries of the professors have remained the same and have not only compelled them to live the 'simple life' of necessity, but have made the question of their family and its bringing up one of the dire penalties of their choice of a profession that every one tells them ennobles them and also honors the state and the community in which they serve. It is not only true that the professor, even if he were willing to try some crude collective experiment, cannot reduce his standard of living to that of the various hewers of wood and the drawers of water, in view of the social and the intellectual demands of his position, but that he has been further humiliated within the last five years by seeing the most unskilled of manual workers get a remuneration out of all proportion to the part played in the labor world and in national life. It is this new situation that still continues, coupled with the older difficulties, which have been the wolf at the door of the professor all too long, that have given rise to the present demand all over the country that the salaries of the teacher and the college professor shall not only meet the immediate exigency of the highly increased cost of living, but that it shall be based on the minimum amount that will give the recipient, those conveniences of living that the man and woman who occupy these admitted positions of responsibility must have."

DEMOCRACY GATHERING FOR ST. JACKSON DAY.

With the dawn of the New Year the Democratic clans are gathering in Washington for meeting of the national committee and Jackson Day love feast at the Willard. The call for the meeting stresses the selection of a time and place for the national convention as the main business in hand. That will be the first topic talked when Chairman Homer S. Cummings calls the braves to order at 10 o'clock on the morning of January 8.

Six cities are now in the running for the convention, Chicago, Kansas City, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and San Francisco. The choice is thought to lie between Chicago, Kansas City and Frisco.

There is a terrific demand for places at the Jackson Day banquet, or rather for the oratorical barbecue into which it threatens to develop. In addition to Chairman Cummings's introductory (we have-with-us-tonight), which he compassionately promises shall not exceed five minutes, there will be at least twelve speeches of at least twenty minutes each. So four solid hours of spell-binding is a certainty. No list of speakers will be given out in advance.

Mr. McAdoo is the only avowed candidate who will not give the Democratic brethren a sample of keynote oratory, for he is not to be at the meeting. Being President Wilson's son-in-law, he is supposed to be the Administration candidate as the successor to Mr. Wilson's old shoes.

NEBRASKA WOMEN BOYCOTT EGGS. PRICE DROPS 30 CENTS.

When foodstuff prices went soaring out of bounds in Nebraska thousands of housewives throughout the State contented themselves with verbal protests. Still the prices continued to mount higher and higher every day until the ladies of the State decided to organize. The women's clubs of the State put all their strength in to the fight against the food profiteers. A general committee was appointed. On this committee were Mrs. E. F. Bell, Mrs. F. A. Harrison, Mrs. N. E. Hildreth and Mrs. C. S. Clayton. The first step in the fight was the boycotting of eggs. The housewives of the State were appealed to. They were asked to stop buying eggs and complied. Within two weeks the price of eggs dropped thirty cents, from ninety-five to sixty-five cents a dozen. Cheered on by their success the women are planning to attack the prices of many other commodities, especially clothing, along the same lines.

THIRTY-TWO ARRESTED IN WOOD ALCOHOL POISON CASES.

Thirty-two men are under arrest as result of the wholesale distribution of wood alcohol "whiskey" throughout New York and the New England States, which has resulted in the deaths of more than 200 persons. Adolph Paraneil, shown in the photograph, a wine and liquor dealer of New York City, has, according to the New York police, confessed to his part in the distribution of the "whiskey." In his alleged confession, Paraneil is said to have insisted that he believed that the contents of three barrels of "whiskey" which he shipped to Hartford, Conn., was the "real stuff." Not until he received a telephone message from Hartford did he know that the barrels contained wood alcohol.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire department extinguished a small blaze which broke out on the roof of the home of Mrs. Christopher Gretsinger on Lake street, about 11:30 o'clock Saturday.

A few shingles were burned by the fire which started from a spark from the flue. The call was the third in three days for the department giving proof of the tradition when there is one fire there is three.

MAN LEAVES TOWN FOLLOWING EXPERIENCE AT A GATHERING

Boyce is said to have made an effort to get out of the village Thursday night. He went to the home of Pliny St. John, who operates a taxi and asked Mr. St. John to take him to Xenia in time to catch the 11 o'clock train for the east, but the latter refused, and closed the door upon the caller. "No, I won't take you to Xenia, and you know why," said Mr. St. John.

The incident in the community house Thursday afternoon is still the chief topic of conversation in Spring Valley, where groups of youths gathered to talk over the matter.

AN INTERESTING STORY NOW TOLD BY NEWARK MAN

Is kept busy telling his friends how he got rid of a severe case of stomach trouble and constipation.

Sick Since 1917.

States that two bottles of the new medicine Drecto, have done him a great amount of good.

"I am kept busy these days telling my friends what it is that makes me look so much better and feel like myself again," says Mr. George Angleoff of Newark, O.

"My stomach has bothered me very much since back in 1917; seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me, and I soon realized I was cutting out first one thing and then another, because it did not agree with me. I grew thin, weak and pale, and was the picture of a genuine 'Dyspeptic.' My bowels were also badly constipated, and my liver was inactive, which kept me continually yaking physic."

"I've now finished taking the second bottle of Drecto, and my condition shows a remarkable improvement. I can eat many things, which I have denied myself many times, without hurting me afterwards. My color is better; have more strength and feel good all the time, as I get good rest at night. My bowels act regularly every day, without the assistance of other medicines. Drecto surely has proven itself a wonderful medicine in my case."

Drecto is a combination of many different medicinal herbs, that act directly upon the liver, kidneys, stomach, bladder and the blood. It neutralizes the poisons of the system, and causes the organs to take on new life and energy, and rebuild the body. Nothing has a quicker or more positive effect in relieving headaches, constipation, neuralgia, biliousness, nervousness, poor appetite, loss of weight, poor sleep, catarrh, gas on the stomach and rheumatism. Drecto does not contain potash, mercury, or any other harmful mineral.

All good druggists now sell Drecto and it is highly recommended by Solin's Drug Store.

To try to control railroad rates by arbitrarily limiting profits is to put the manager who makes his profits by efficiency and economy on the same level as the one who tries to accomplish the same result through extortionate charges.
—Hadley Railroad Securities Commission; Report to the President—1911.

The railroad is the modern pack-bearer. For every employee it carries 2,000 times as much.

Back of each railroad worker there is a $10,000 investment in tracks and trains and terminals, with steam and electricity harnessed like a great beast of burden.

Without this mighty transportation machine the railroad worker could do no more than the old-time packer. But with it he is enabled to earn the highest railroad wages paid in the world, while the country gains the lowest-cost transportation in the world.

The modern railroad does as much work for half a cent as the pack-bearer could do for a full day's pay.

The investment of capital in transportation and other industries increases production, spreads prosperity and advances civilization.

To enlarge our railroads so that they may keep pace with the Nation's increasing production, to improve them so that freight may be hauled with less and less human effort—a constant stream of new capital needs to be attracted.

Under wise public regulation the growth of railroads will be stimulated, the country will be adequately and economically served, labor will receive its full share of the fruits of good management, and investors will be fairly rewarded.

SAYS INDUSTRIAL AND SCHOOL PROBLEMS GREATEST BEFORE U. S.

That our public schools and industrial problems are the greatest now facing the American people, was the gist of a talk delivered by Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, in speaking to 300 men under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the High

School auditorium in Springfield Sunday afternoon. "The Great American Problem," was the subject chosen by the educator, who started with a picture of what the war had cost the world, portraying the nine millions who had fallen in battle, and the millions lost in money. "Tremendous price for what?" said Dr. Claxton. "For changing boundaries that had been intact for years?—for freeing Poland?"

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

Apple Pie Lures Robert Away for Dinner.

"Whatever made you tell me Robert looked sick?" I asked Mary Ryan. "I haven't seen him as gay as he was last night in a long time." "There's more'n one kind of sickness of the mind and heart, too, I guess, what is worse than all the fevers and other pains folks have. You see they have doctors when you break a leg or get some disease, but there ain't no one going to doctor your mind when that's sick—not that I know of." "You mean that Robert's mind is sick?" "Perhaps—perhaps not. But when folks, I don't much care if they are men or women, get their minds fixed on something they can't have, just as likely as not they get something they ought not to have, that they ain't got any business wanting."

"You are a queer girl, Mary. You seem to think Robert is not contented." Mary only smiled and asked me to tell her about that new girl I had met, Marion Hovey. "She's very pretty and an accomplished housekeeper if Robert and the rest are to be believed." "Robert talked about that—her housekeeping, and her cooking?" "Yes, I accused him of always thinking of food."

"Men do—quite a lot," she returned then changed the subject. We often had little chats during the day, now that we were not so busy. And always Mary would bring in something about a home, or Robert.

Now even though I was able to get home quite early, Robert was often late. Occasionally he did not come in to dinner, but would telephone me not to wait. "Where have you been, Dear?" I asked one evening when he had not been in to dinner. "Where did you have dinner?"

"Marion Hovey was good enough to take me home with her. I met her just as I left the store and we walked along together. She told me what she was going to have for dinner and when I said it sounded mighty good to me, she told me to come along and have some if I could. I knew you wouldn't miss me in that noisy place downstairs. It would be different if you had been alone, then I would not have gone. But you have plenty of company here, so I trotted right along and had a good dinner, topped off with a delicious apple pie and real coffee. The only part I didn't like was that I couldn't bring you some."

That last sentence, dissipated any feeling of jealousy I might have had—he had thought of me. "Never mind, dear. I don't care as much for apple pie as you do, and strong coffee keeps me awake."

One evening when Robert and I had been sitting quietly reading for some time, he surprised me by an exclamation of annoyance. "What's the matter, Dear? I thought you were reading," I laid my book aside.

"I don't know what ails me, Gerry. I can't keep my mind fixed on my work. They boosted Glen's salary today and he never said a word to me, although I really came first in line for promotion. I can't seem to concentrate any more. My thoughts go wool-gathering at just the wrong times."

"But you were so enthusiastic when we were first engaged, so sure you were going to get a big advance soon." Someway the disappointment I felt showed in my voice, altho I had tried not to let Robert realize I was disappointed.

"I know, and—well, Gerry, I guess some folks need something to make them work, and perhaps I am that kind. Ever since your last raise I keep thinking you earn more than I do, and that you can have what you want without my help, and it seems to take all my ambition away. It's silly I know, but—well—I am going to get over it somehow, but I don't just know how."

"I should say you were silly! Knowing I earn such a good salary should make you more ambitious. You don't want a woman to get ahead of you do you?" "No—yet I guess it is a good thing you can make money, Gerry. I don't seem to be able to."

I saw he was discouraged, and tried to cheer him up. Yet all the time in the back of my mind was a feeling of chargin because he was inadequate, because he acknowledged it.

Blame Nightmare on Demon. In some portions of the continent of Europe a nightmare is believed to be a spectral creature that comes and takes a seat on the breast of the unconscious sleeper, half smothering him and not permitting him to move. Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply. He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane.

Thousands are made well by this official remedy at home, one who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy. Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

SAYS INDUSTRIAL AND SCHOOL PROBLEMS GREATEST BEFORE U. S.

That our public schools and industrial problems are the greatest now facing the American people, was the gist of a talk delivered by Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, in speaking to 300 men under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the High

School auditorium in Springfield Sunday afternoon. "The Great American Problem," was the subject chosen by the educator, who started with a picture of what the war had cost the world, portraying the nine millions who had fallen in battle, and the millions lost in money. "Tremendous price for what?" said Dr. Claxton. "For changing boundaries that had been intact for years?—for freeing Poland?"

The price had been paid, he said; "for making the world safe for democracy and giving the people living in the oppressed European countries a chance. The important period was not from 1914 until November 11, 1918. Our opportunity is now—now is the time for thoughtful men to show their patriotism and loyalty more than ever before. Democracy is the most difficult form of government, and democracy depends upon the intelligence of the people. The people read to be educated so they can choose their government representatives and help them with their problems of government."

The speaker showed that education is not only a national factor out of international importance. "The term of splendid isolation that we so used to cherish he said, 'is gone now. The world is now one, it is no longer divided. What affects nations in Europe, will affect us."

In closing Dr. Claxton outlined three needs in American education: "The boys and girls of our American schools must be physically developed; education must be universal, the children should be educated

The people read to be educated so they can choose their government representatives and help them with their problems of government."

The speaker showed that education is not only a national factor out of international importance. "The term of splendid isolation that we so used to cherish he said, 'is gone now. The world is new one, it is no longer divided. What affects nations in Europe, will affect us."

In closing Dr. Claxton outlined three needs in American education: "The boys and girls of our American schools must be physically developed; education must be universal, the children should be educated

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED—AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

Apple Pie Lures Robert Away for Dinner.

Chapter 18. . . . .

"Whatever made you tell me Robert looked sick?" I asked Mary Ryan. "I haven't seen him as gay as he was last night in a long time."

"There's more'n one kind of sickness of the mind and heart, too, I guess, what is worse than all the fevers and other pains folks have. You see they have doctors when you break a leg or get some disease, but there ain't no one going to doctor your mind when that's sick—not that I know of."

"You mean that Robert's mind is sick?"

"Perhaps—perhaps not. But when folks, I don't much care if they are men or women, get their minds fixed on something they can't have, just as likely as not they get something they ought not to have, that they ain't got any business wanting."

"You are a queer girl, Mary. You seem to think Robert is not contented."

Mary only smiled and asked me to tell her about that new girl I had met, Marion Hovey.

"She's very pretty and an accomplished housekeeper if Robert and the rest are to be believed."

"Robert talked about that—her housekeeping, and her cooking?"

"Yes, I accused him of always thinking of food."

"Men do—quite a lot," she returned then, changed the subject. We often had little chats during the day, now that we were not so busy. And always Mary would bring in something about a home, or Robert.

Now even though I was able to get home quite early, Robert was often late. Occasionally he did not come in to dinner, but would telephone me not to wait.

"Where have you been, Dear?" I asked one evening when he had not been in to dinner. "Where did you have dinner?"

"Marion Hovey was good enough to take me home with her. I met her just as I left the store and we walked along together. She told me what she was going to have for dinner and when I said it sounded mighty good to me, she told me to come along and have some if I could. I knew you wouldn't miss me in that noisy place downstairs. It would be different if you had been alone, then I would not have gone. But you have plenty of company here, so I trotted right along and had a good dinner, topped off with a delicious apple pie and real coffee. The only part I didn't like was that I couldn't bring you some."

That last sentence dissipated any feeling of jealousy I might have had—he had thought of me.

"Never mind, dear. I don't care as much for apple pie as you do, and strong coffee keeps me awake."

One evening when Robert and I had been sitting quietly reading for some time, he surprised me by an exclamation of annoyance.

"What's the matter, Dear? I thought you were reading," I laid my book aside.

"I don't know what ails me Gerry. I can't keep my mind fixed on my work. They boosted Glen's salary today and he never said a word to me, although I really came first in line for promotion. I can't seem to concentrate any more. My thoughts go wool-gathering at just the wrong times."

"But you were so enthusiastic when we were first engaged, so sure you were going to get a big advance soon." Someway the disappointment I felt showed in my voice, although I had tried not to let Robert realize I was disappointed.

"I know, and—well, Gerry, I guess some folks need something to make them work, and perhaps I am that kind. Ever since your last raise I keep thinking you earn more than I do, and that you can have what you want, without my help, and it seems to take all my ambition away. It's silly I know, but—well—I am going to get over it someway, but I don't just know how."

"I should say you were silly! Knowing I earn such a good salary should make you more ambitious. You don't want a woman to get ahead of you do you?"

"No—yet I guess it is a good thing you can make money, Gerry I don't seem to be able to."

I saw he was discouraged, and tried to cheer him up. Yet all the time in the back of my mind was a feeling of chargin because he was inadequate, because he acknowledged it.

Blame Nightmare on Demon.

In some portions of the continent of Europe nightmare is believed to be a spectral creature that comes and takes a seat on the breast of the unconscious sleeper, half smothering him and not permitting him to move. As those who have suffered therefrom say they cannot so much as bend the little finger during those moments of anguish, it is not surprising that the superstitious explained the condition as a malicious demon crushing his victim.

Kindness in Business.

It is a great privilege to have an opportunity many times a day, in the course of your business, to do a kindness which is not to be paid for. Graciousness of demeanor is a large part of the duty of any official person who comes in contact with the world. Where a man's business is, there is the place for his religion to manifest itself.—Helps.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a day.

Thousands are making a beneficial remedy at home one who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy. Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

SAYS INDUSTRIAL AND SCHOOL PROBLEMS GREATEST BEFORE U. S.

That our public schools and industrial problems are the greatest now facing the American people, was the gist of a talk delivered by Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, in speaking to 500 men under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the High School auditorium in Springfield Sunday afternoon. "The Great American Problem" was the subject chosen by the educator, who started with a picture of what the war had cost the world, portraying the nine millions who had fallen in battle, and the millions lost in money. "Tremendous price for what!" said Dr. Claxton. "For changing boundaries that had been intact for years—for freeing Poland?"

in principle rather than personality, and to do this universal high school education is necessary; and, we must educate ourselves for a great commercial life, learn to read and speak foreign languages, so we will be well fitted to carry on a foreign trade.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

By Jane Phelps.

A Modern Story of Home and Business.

Apple Pie Lures Robert Away for Dinner.

Chapter 18. . . . .
"Whatever made you tell me Robert looked sick?" I asked Mary Ryan. "I haven't seen him as gay as he was last night in a long time."
"There's more'n one kind of sickness of the mind and heart, too, I guess, what is worse than all the fevers and other pains folks have. You see they have doctors when you break a leg or get some disease, but there ain't no one going to doctor your mind when that's sick—not that I know of."
"You mean that Robert's mind is sick?"
"Perhaps—perhaps not. But when folks, I don't much care if they are men or women, get their minds fixed on something they can't have, just as likely as not they get something they ought not to have, that they ain't got any business wanting."
"You are a queer girl, Mary. You seem to think Robert is not contented." Mary only smiled and asked me to tell her about that new girl I had met, Marion Hovey.
"She's very pretty and an accomplished housekeeper if Robert and the rest are to be believed."
"Robert talked about that—her housekeeping, and her cooking?"
"Yes, I accused him of always thinking of food."
"Men do—quite a lot," she returned then changed the subject. We often had little chats during the day, now that we were not so busy. And always Mary would bring in something about a home, or Robert.
Now even though I was able to get home quite early, Robert was often late. Occasionally he did not come in to dinner, but would telephone me not to wait.
"Where have you been, dear?" I asked one evening when he had not been in to dinner. "Where did you have dinner?"
"Marion Hovey was good enough to take me home with her. I met her just as I left the store and we walked along together. She told me what she was going to have for dinner and when I said it sounded mighty good to me, she told me to come along and have some if I could. I knew you wouldn't miss me in that noisy place downstairs. It would be different if you had been alone, then I would not have gone. But you have plenty of company here, so I trotted right along and had a good dinner, topped off with a delicious apple pie and real coffee. The only part I didn't like was that I couldn't bring you some."
That last sentence dissipated any feeling of jealousy I might have had—he had thought of me.
"Never mind, dear. I don't care as much for apple pie as you do, and strong coffee keeps me awake."
One evening when Robert and I had been sitting quietly reading for some time, he surprised me by an exclamation of annoyance.
"What's the matter, dear? I thought you were reading," I laid my book aside.
"I don't know what ails me, Gerry. I can't keep my mind fixed on my work. They boosted Glen's salary today and he never said a word to me, although I really came first in line for promotion. I can't seem to concentrate any more. My thoughts go wool-gathering at just the wrong times."
"But you were so enthusiastic when we were first engaged, so sure you were going to get a big advance soon." Someway the disappointment I felt showed in my voice, altho I had tried not to let Robert realize I was disappointed.
"I know, and—well, Gerry, I guess some folks need something to make them work, and perhaps I am that kind. Ever since your last raise I keep thinking you earn more than I do, and that you can have what you want without my help, and it seems to take all my ambition away. It's silly I know, but—well—I am going to get over it somehow, but I don't just know how."
"I should say you were silly! Knowing I earn such a good salary should make you more ambitious. You don't want a woman to get ahead of you do you?"
"No—yet I guess it is a good thing you can make money, Gerry. I don't seem to be able to."
I saw he was discouraged, and tried to cheer him up. Yet all the time in the back of my mind was a feeling of chargin because he was inadequate, because he acknowledged it.

Blame Nightmare on Demon.
In some portions of the continent of Europe a nightmare is believed to be a spectral creature that comes and takes a seat on the breast of the unconscious sleeper, half smothering him and not permitting him to move. As those who have suffered therefrom say they cannot so much as bend the little finger during those moments of anguish, it is not surprising that the superstitious explained the condition as a malicious demon crushing his victim.

Kindness in Business.
It is a great privilege to have an opportunity many times a day, in the course of your business, to do a kindness which is not to be paid for. Graciousness of demeanor is a large part of the duty of any official person who comes in contact with the world. Where a man's business is, there is the place for his religion to manifest itself.—Helps.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a day.

Thousands are made well by this simple remedy at home. One who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholated Arcline in a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholated Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

Next time you see a Fireman notice his shirt

It's WOOL—all WOOL—if it were cotton it would crook, fade and run every time the alarm rang just like a part cotton blue flannel suit kicks up its heels and puckers every time you take it to a party.

Our Woolen Suits at $35.00 to $60.00 are like a good fireman's shirt ALL WOOL.

The style, the fit and the finish and the way they hang are the things we like to talk about most for they are the things that young men admire first—the all wool feature keeps in the back ground until it's needed.

BUT IT'S THERE JUST THE SAME IN EVERY SUIT WE SELL.

DIES IN HOSPITAL IN DAYTON ON SUNDAY

John Butler, well-known Xenian, died at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Dayton, Sunday morning at 8:25 o'clock. He had undergone an operation at the hospital two weeks ago, but his death was sudden, as he had apparently been improving. Mr. Butler had been making his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Barnes, 33 Center street. His wife preceded him in death two years ago, but he is survived by the following children: Thomas, John, Mrs. Gilbert Lewis, Mrs. William Cody, Mrs. Ora Barnes and Mrs. Edgar Wright of Detroit. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Mary Killinger of Cincinnati, Mrs. Mary Hurley and Mrs. Joseph Clancy of Milford. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Bridget's Catholic church. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Frost at Varying Heights.
The reason frost occurs on low lands when there is none on high ground is because the higher ground cools off more rapidly than the lower, and the upper stratum of air being thus condensed, flows downward and deposits the moisture, which changes into frost. Cold air is heavier than warm and settles to the bottom.

Warts Are Contagious.
Warts are contagious, as is proved by experiments on their own fingers made by Drs. Udo J. Wile and Lyle B. Klingery of the University of Michigan Medical school. These physicians seem to have proved that the warts are caused by some sort of a virus that passes easily through a filter and therefore through the sound human skin.

CENSUS TAKERS HAVE TROUBLES; LIFE NOT EASY

"Rap! Rap! Rap!" For the third time C. O. Weddle, official government enumerator, knocked on the door at one of the residences in his precinct. After the third and more insistent knock, the woman of the house opened the door an inch or two. "I am the government census taker," began Mr. Weddle, as he thrust one foot in the door to hold the advantage he had gained. "We don't want any today," said the woman of the house as she made an unsuccessful attempt to shut the door in the face of the enumerator. Mr. Weddle pressed into the room and essayed another explanation: "I don't believe you understand me," he said. "I am taking the government census."

The woman stared at him blankly. "We are trying to find out the population of the United States," continued the census man. "Oh!" said the housewife. "When I saw you with that satchel I thought you were some kind of an agent, and I was bound you wasn't going to get in here." All of which is apropos of the fact that census takers, like assessors, have their troubles. Local census enumerators are now making a plea to the women to "open the door to the census taker."

Despite the "agent look" they might have, they are not trying to sell anything, but are merely attempting to find out the correct population of the United States, and housewives should remember that they are coming and be ready to let them in and give them all the information they ask for.

All live stock, horses, pigs, cows, sheep, goats, mules and other stock kept should be listed, and must be given to the census taker, as the government is attempting to find out how much live stock there is in this country.

People with stock often try to conceal the fact from the census taker because they think that it will be given to the tax man for collection.

On the contrary the enumerators are sworn to secrecy and after their records are completed they are sealed and sent to the government, where they are assembled and given out as totals. At one residence visited by Mr. Weddle in his census taking rounds, the man of the house, who was home, said that he did not have any live stock. "Those pigs are those in your back yard," said Mr. Weddle. "Mine," replied the man. "How many are there?" pressed the enumerator. "One sow and thirteen pigs—fourteen all together," replied the man, and the census taker jotted them down.

The enumerator gets paid more for live stock than for humans—ten cents for each head, so they are not going to let any live stock slip by if they can help it.

Marvelous Arcturus.
Of a deep orange color and of the first order of brightness, Arcturus is a sun that makes our own pale in comparison as a tall dip pales before an arc lamp. Indeed, it is thought to radiate 500 times as much light as our sun.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

First Motion Pictures.
The motion picture was experimentally given in both this country and Europe in the early nineties, though it was not until 1895 that the invention had so far advanced as to make a public exhibition practicable. The latter part of that year they were exhibited in Europe and America.

Ditto.
The first recorded case of attempted economy by a government official was unfortunately a failure. It appears that somebody, whose duty it is to issue all outgoing checks, attached his signature to the first one of a batch and simply put "ditto" on the remainder.—London Punch.

TAKE IN SEVEN MORE AS CHARTER MEMBERS

Attorney L. C. Darlington, Commander of Post No. 95, of the American Legion, announces that seven more ex-service men can be taken into Joseph P. Foody Post, as charter members. In making the report of the local post, Mr. Darlington found that there are now 163 names on the post roster, while 170 was the number sent in some time ago as charter members. This discrepancy gives seven more candidates the opportunity to get in as charter members. Applicants will be received up until Wednesday evening, and the first seven men to sign up in the Legion before that time will have the honor of being put down as charter members of the local organization.

"ONE AND ONE-HALF" COMEDIANS ARE HERE

"One and one-half comedians" will furnish the laughs in "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" which appears at the Opera House Monday evening.

The production is a musical farce comedy and immortalizes the famous characters of Bud Fisher's mirth making cartoons. The offering is clean if laugh making, and wholesome if lively and brisk. It offers a potpourri of melody, mirth and maidens, the singing, dancing and comedy lines predominating. "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" is a Gus Hill production with the backing of nine years on the road. The new version is said to be even better than any of the former offerings of the piece.

Mrs. Alice Johnson is improving nicely.

The Red Cross community room was dedicated New Years day. A dinner for the soldiers was held in the Township hall after which the people repaired to the community room.

Mr. Roy Irons and family moved this week to Amanda, Ohio.

Mr. Russell Davis and daughter, Miss Elsa, entertained the Davis family at New Years dinner.

Famous American Patriot.
In 1832, on the 14th of November, Charles Carroll, the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, died at the age of ninety-six. He studied law in France and England and returned to America at the age of twenty-seven, where he soon became known as an able political writer and a strong advocate of liberty. Twenty-two years before his death he retired to private life.

Madagascar Turtles.
Some of the turtles of Madagascar are oval in form and very fat and plump; others are much thinner and flat. In order to catch them, the natives go out to sea in the early morning when the ocean is very smooth, and the turtles come to the surface to enjoy their morning nap.

VARIOUS ESTIMATES OF CITY'S POPULATION MADE AT STORE ROOM

If you have not set down your estimate of the population of Xenia, at C. F. Greenleaf's "Smoke House," you are one of the few. Many people, with an idea that they know just how many the noses the census enumerators will have to count, have recorded their guess at the "Smoke House," where a box of cigars will be given to the correct guesser.

The dates of the guessers are set down opposite the guessers name, and in case there are two correct guessers the first one will be given preference in awarding the prize. The contest will continue until the official announcement is made as the enumerators are sworn to secrecy and there can be no results of the enumeration leak out before that time. While it is known that Xenia has grown considerably since the 8,000 and some souls were registered back in 1910, there seems to be quite a difference of opinion in the size of the growth.

Guesses ranging from 9,000 to 15,000 have been recorded and each guesser has been able to submit an excellent argument in defense of his guess.

Grip, Influenza

Mamin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive
During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and snuff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "Flu" germs. Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza. Get it from druggists for 30c. If not satisfied, return the bottle and get your money back. Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30c at druggists. Guaranteed.

Nerv-Worth has done a wonderful work for debilitated soldiers at the national homes and many of them are so grateful that they want fellow-sufferers to learn of their happy experience. Mr. Krafft is one of these and this is what he says and consents to have published: "I have been in a bad rheumatic condition for 15 years. Used two crutches most of the time and one all the time. Was also extremely nervous and could not get restful sleep. Tossed about the bed all night and was tired and worn out in the morning. My hands trembled so that it was difficult to hold anything. "I saw Nerv-Worth advertised and purchased a bottle and took it as directed and am glad to say it did the work. My nervousness is gone and I can now sleep soundly all night through. RHEUMATIC PAINS HAVE LEFT ME and I can now walk about without my crutch and am gaining strength daily. Nerv-Worth is the greatest remedy I have ever used or known of and is certainly the old man's friend." I shall always keep it on hand."

Attractiveness, Pleasing Personality, Magnetism—Woman With Good Blood Means Good Things.
Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich Blood—Builds Up Weak Who Lack Energy.
How natural that the woman with an abundant supply of vigor, health, and natural attractiveness should compel the admiration of everyone she meets and that she should enjoy life to the utmost. Her magnetic personality and personal charm make her the center of attraction everywhere.
Of course it is the desire of every woman to be healthy and happy and to make those around her happy, yet many women who do not possess good health accept that tired, worn-out, half exhausted feeling as their lot, unconscious of the fact that such poor health is often merely a matter of the blood, and that such a condition can be remedied.
Pepto-Mangan is intended for just such women. It contains the very elements that make the blood and create a strong, healthy, little red blood cells which are necessary. It is this healthy, little red-blood cells that carry nourishment, strength, vitality, and vigor to every part of the body.
Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both possess exactly the same medicinal properties. When you ask your druggist for Pepto-Mangan be sure to specify "Gude's"—that is the genuine.

Next time you see a Fireman notice his shirt

It's WOOL—all WOOL—if it were cotton it would crook, fade and run every time the alarm rang just like a put cotton blue flannel suit kinks up its heels and puckers every time you take it to a party.

Our Woolen Suits at $35.00 to $60.00 are like a good fireman's shirt ALL WOOL.

The style, the fit and the finish and the way they hang are the things we like to talk about most for they are the things that young men admire first—the all wool feature keeps in the back ground until it's needed.

BUT IT'S THERE JUST THE SAME IN EVERY SUIT WE SELL.

DIES IN HOSPITAL IN DAYTON ON SUNDAY

John Butler, well-known Xenian, died at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Dayton, Sunday morning at 8:25 o'clock. He had undergone an operation at the hospital two weeks ago, but his death was sudden, as he had apparently been improving.

Mr. Butler had been making his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Barnes, 33 Center street. His wife preceded him in death two years ago, but he is survived by the following children: Thomas, John, Mrs. Gilbert Lewis, Mrs. William Cody, Mrs. Ora Barnes and Mrs. Edgar Wright of Detroit. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Mary Killinger of Cincinnati, Mrs. Mary Hurley and Mrs. Joseph Clancy of Milford.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Brigid's Catholic church. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Frost at Varying Heights.
The reason frost occurs on low lands when there is none on high ground is because the higher ground cools off more rapidly than the lower, and the upper stratum of air being thus condensed, flows downward and deposits the moisture, which changes into frost. Cold air is heavier than warm and settles to the bottom.

Warts Are Contagious.
Warts are contagious, as is proved by experiments on their own fingers made by Drs. Udo J. Wile and Lyle B. Kingery of the University of Michigan Medical school. These physicians seem to have proved that the warts are caused by some sort of a virus that passes easily through a filter and therefore through the sound human skin.

CENSUS TAKERS HAVE TROUBLES; LIFE NOT EASY

"Rap! Rap! Rap!" For the third time C. O. Weddle, official government enumerator, knocked on the door at one of the residences in his precinct.

After the third and more insistent knock, the woman of the house opened the door an inch or two.

"I am the government census taker," began Mr. Weddle, as he thrust one foot in the door to show the vantage he had gained.

"We don't want any today," said the woman of the house as she made an unsuccessful attempt to shut the door in the face of the enumerator.

Mr. Weddle pressed into the room and essayed another explanation: "I don't believe you understand me," he said. "I am taking the government census."

The woman stared at him blankly. "We are trying to find out the population of the United States," continued the census man.

"Oh!" said the housewife. "When I saw you with that satchel I thought you were some kind of an agent, and I was bound you wasn't going to get in here."

All of which is apropos of the fact that census takers, like assessors, have their troubles.

Local census enumerators are now making a plea to the women to "open the door to the census taker."

Despite the "agent look" they might have, they are not trying to sell anything, but are merely attempting to find out the correct population of the United States, and housewives should remember that they are coming and be ready to let them in and give them all the information they ask for.

All live stock, horses, pigs, cows, sheep, goats, mules and other stock kept should be listed, and must be given to the census taker, as the government is attempting to find out how much live stock there is in this country.

People with stock often try to conceal the fact from the census taker because they think that it will be given to the tax man for collection.

On the contrary the enumerators are sworn to secrecy and after their records are completed they are sealed and sent to the government, where they are assembled and given out as totals.

At one residence visited by Mr. Weddle in his census taking rousings, the man of the house, who was home, said that he did not have any live stock.

"Whose pigs are those in your back yard," said Mr. Weddle.

"Mine," replied the man.

"How many are there?" pressed the enumerator.

"One sow and thirteen pigs—fourteen all together," replied the man, and the census taker jotted them down.

The enumerator gets paid more for live stock than for humans—ten cents for each head, so they are not going to let any live stock slip by if they can help it.

Mr. Weddle pressed into the room and essayed another explanation: "I don't believe you understand me," he said. "I am taking the government census."

The woman stared at him blankly. "We are trying to find out the population of the United States," continued the census man.

"Oh!" said the housewife. "When I saw you with that satchel I thought you were some kind of an agent, and I was bound you wasn't going to get in here."

All of which is apropos of the fact that census takers, like assessors, have their troubles.

Marvelous Arcturus.
Of a deep orange color and of the first order of brightness, Arcturus is a sun that makes our own pale in comparison as a tallow dip pales before an arc lamp. Indeed, it is thought to radiate 500 times as much light as our sun.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

First Motion Pictures.
The motion picture was experimented with and test exhibitions were privately given in both this country and Europe in the early nineties, though it was not until 1895 that the invention had so far advanced as to make a public exhibition practicable. The latter part of that year they were exhibited in Europe and America.

Ditto.
The first recorded case of attempted economy by a government official was unfortunately a failure. It appears that somebody, whose duty it is to issue all outgoing checks, attached his signature to the first one of a batch and simply put "ditto" on the remainder.—London Punch.

In making the report of the local post, Mr. Darlington found that there are now 163 names on the post roster, while 170 was the number sent in some time ago a charter members. This discrepancy gives seven more candidates the opportunity to get in as charter members of the Post.

Applicants will be received up until Wednesday evening, and the first seven men to sign up in the Legion before that time will have the honor of being put down as charter members of the local organization.

"ONE AND ONE-HALF" COMEDIANS ARE HERE

"One and one-half comedians," will furnish the laughs in "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" which appears at the Opera House Monday evening.

The production is a musical farce comedy and immortalizes the famous characters of Bud Fisher's mirth making cartoons. The offering is clean if laugh making, and wholesome if lively and brisk. It offers a potpourri of melody, mirth and maidens, the singing, dancing and comedy lines predominating.

"Mutt and Jeff's Dream" is a Cus Hill production with the backing of nine years on the road. The new version is said to be even better than any of the former offerings of the piece.

VARIOUS ESTIMATES OF CITY'S POPULATION MADE AT STORE ROOM

If you have not set down your guess of the population of Xenia, at the C. F. Greenleaf "Smoke House", you are one of the few.

Many people, with an idea that they know just how many the noses the census enumerators will have to count, have recorded their guess at the "Smoke House," where a box of cigars will be given to the correct guesser.

The dates of the guessers are set down opposite the guessers name, and in case there are two correct guessers the first one will be given a preference in awarding the prize. The contest will continue until the official announcement is made as the enumerators are sworn to secrecy and there can be no results of the enumeration leak out before that time.

While it is known that Xenia has grown considerably since the 8,000 and some souls were registered back in 1910, there seems to be quite a difference of opinion in the size of the growth.

Guesses ranging from 9,000 to 15,000 have been recorded and each guesser has been able to submit an excellent argument in defense of his guess.
